This listing of claims will replace all prior versions, and listings, of claims in the application:

Listing of Claims:

What is claimed is:

1. (currently amended): A method for applying information to an appliance via both a mobile device and a computer system, the method comprising:

transmitting an information request from the mobile device to the computer system via a first communication network; generating a list of all available information as a first part of a response to the information request; transmitting the list of all available information from the computer system via the first communication network to the mobile device as a second part of the response to the information request; designating from the list of all available information a designated information to be processed and the appliance to which the designated information is to be applied as instructions in the mobile device; transmitting the instructions from the mobile device to the computer system via the first communication network wherein the first communication network includes a gateway with which the mobile device communicates by using standard telecommunication protocols, and the gateway converts the instructions to a format which the computer system understands; and retrieving the designated information and applying the designated information to the appliance via a second communication network for processing according to the instructions.
